Did you know recent state legislation – the Sustainable Groundwater Management Act – now requires local public agencies to regulate all groundwater users, including those with a private well, by 2022? Local agencies in Tuolumne and Stanislaus Counties are coordinating to respond to these requirements. Join this webinar to learn more and how you can monitor and participate in preparation of a Groundwater Sustainability Plan for the region.

For more information about how the Sustainable Groundwater Management Act may affect residents in Tuolumne County, contact Kim MacFarlane at KMacFarlane@co.tuolumne.ca.us. For more information about or help to join the webinar, contact Kirsten Pringle, at 916-418-8243 or kirsten.pringle@stantec.com.
